Our Services

We provide an end-to-end solution that encompasses everything from consulting (including assistance in selecting the appropriate system) to ongoing support and operations within a Managed Service framework. By training IT departments and offering our supplementary solutions, we ensure that our clients can fully leverage the potential of their Mobile Device Management (MDM) system.

Project Workflow

Your Challenges

- GDPR-compliant use of business data on mobile devices
- Timely implementation of an MDM system due to ISMS requirements or ISO certification
- Existing MDM system no longer meets the growing demands of the organization
- Business use of macOS devices necessitates centralized device management

Our Solutions

- Implementation of an MDM system that meets current GDPR requirements
- Best practices aligned with the IT baseline protection guidelines set by BSI
- audius toolkit for seamless migration of devices
- Integration of the MDM system with existing interfaces
- Operations and support of the MDM system up to a full Managed Service level

FAQ

At what company size is an MDM system necessary?

The use of centralized device management becomes beneficial starting with as few as 5 devices.

How long does the implementation of an MDM system take?

The technical implementation typically takes 3-5 days, while the overall project timeline depends on individual requirements and the specific IT infrastructure.

Which types of devices can be managed with an MDM system?

Depending on the system being used, the following types of devices can be managed: smartphones, tablets, laptops, VR headsets, smartwatches, and handheld scanners.
